BASKETBALL . . .

About 13 months ago, we wrote "They are boys in age; but they are men on the court."

Shaking down football rigidity, the Yoemen, 6-3 average and all, are beginning to show the AA class that should send them into post-season playoffs to offset the early season given up to quarter-final football excellence.

Now 3-0 in district, the Yoemen--Bennett, Brooks, Hornung, White, Sapp, Scott, White, and company--are fast jelling into an outside shooting, break-away and rebound club which is destroying the district. Daniels' knee is subject to surgery and he may be out of it.

It's not just the height. It's all of it. The coach is going to have to press his starters to keep their minds on the finer points while the second five sharpens its outside eye.

This Yoemen club should keep its head, however easy early district games have been. They are good enough--these men--to take down a lot of nets at the end of district, regional, and state playoffs.

Two early losses to Marlin are understandable and that Ennis loss caught everybody cold while the Ennis club had some height early on our big guys hadn't seen since last year. And there were a lot of football games in between.

When you beat second-ranked Caldwell by 12, then two other district teams by 53 and 35 or so, your problem is improving during a light schedule. The second string may see about as much action in district as the starters, which is sort of a plus.

This is the kind of club we can't expect too much from until late in the playoffs because they are potentially that good.

But this is not all. Over at OJT mid-school some lanky 6-footers are already limbering up.

Should this Yoemen varsity take it as far as their talent shows, they'll be in the semis or finals of AA in March. Except for a field goal, this bunch was the nucleous of the grid Yoemen which are good enough for AA final competition.

What we are saying is this bunch knows a lot about winning. Period. The club won 23 games last year out of perhaps 30. They won 10 football games and tied 2.

They know they can reach as high, move as quick, last as long, drive that goal as good as anybody.

And if they are the champions we think they are, they'll put it just a little bit higher than most anybody when AA basketball reaches the final four teams.

"They are boys in age; but these are men on the courts."

Cars were driven by Mrs. Shirley Yoakum of Rt. 1 Milano and Mrs. Hollas Williams of Rockdale. Both cars were headed east on Highway 79.

The accident occured as Mrs. Yoakum attempted a turn off the highway and Mrs. Williams' car collided with the other vehicle.

City To Host Stock Show

A GHOSTLY JAIL building rises out of the "pea soup" fog enclosing the city Tuesday morning, replacing three days of longed-for sunny weather. However, by noon fog and clouds had lifted, making way for a sunny afternoon.

By Rodney Kruse

The annual Milam County Junior Livestock Show, the county's largest livestock show, will be held on Saturday, January 11 at the Cotton Compress Company warehouse in Cameron.

Livestock from 4-H Clubs in Thorndale, Rockdale, Cameron, Buckholts, Branchville, and Gause Two-Mile have entered along with FFA Chapters fro m Milano, Cameron, Rockdale, Thorndale, and Buckholts entering projects.

A total of 148 entries have been tallied for the show, including 36 market hogs, 11 gilts, 13 steers, 53 junior beef heifers, 11 dairy heifers, 14 fat lambs, and 10 breedings ewes.

Last years six buyers were Eisfeldt Bros. Farm, Citizens National Bank, Cameron; Anderle Lumber Company, Cameron; Zink's Food Market, Cameron; Cameron Livestock Auction, and Milam County Farm Bureau.

Individuals and/or business in Milam County or surrounding counties are welcome to attend the hog sale and bid on the hog.

Trophies will be given to all Grand Champion and Showmanship winners with rosettes given to Reserve Champion winners. All entries will receive a blue, red, or white ribbon with prize money.

City Seeks Public Works Supt.

The city is looking for a new public works superintendent following the resignation of Bill Dase, and at a regular council meeting Tuesday evening it was decided to advertise for applicants for the position.

Also needed is a heavy equipment operator. Applications are being taken by City Secy. Buddy Fuller at city hall.

Mayor Gene Blake told council that a superintendent and an assistant is needed, as the job is pretty big for one man. Decision on replacement will be made at the January 21 council meeting.

In other business council adopted a resolution approving the Community Development Program which has been planned and is awaiting approval from HUD before funding. Community Development Agency executive director A. W. McCullin reviewed the program for the council and called for another public meeting on the program. The meeting ha been set for January 21, time and place to be set later.

McCullin also said a check for $90,000 had been received for the city's urban renewal extension. He also reported that the park pavilion ha s been repaired and is being painted, and the Texas Highway Department is measuring streets for its paving program, for which the city is eligible. However, it is not known yet if Cameron will be included in the program.

Allison Joins Herald Staff In Advertising

Eddie Allison, native of Cameron and Air Force veteran, has joined the advertising staff of the Herald and will be working with George Jones, advertising manager who is semi-retiring.

Allison, a 1939 graduate of Yoe High School, served two hitches in the Air Force, retiring in 1964. He served as a tail gunner during World War II and as instructor during his second tour of service.

In 1965 he joined Keller Industries, Caldwell with home office in Miami, Fla. and worked up to become general manager of the aluminum ladder division with plants at Caldwell; Merced, Calif.; Milford, Va.; and Muscatine, Iowa. He left the company in 1973.

Allison is married to the former Helen L. Hardwick of Cameron and they had three sons, one of whom, Eddie, died in an accident at Dow Chemical. Michael is an accountant for Tenneco Oil, Houston, and Gary is route salesman for Coca Cola, Cameron

EDDIE ALLISON

Police Chief Felipe Martinez reported that his officers need a new firing range, and was authorized to find one. A drying rack for the fire department was also approved.

It was noted that some people are putting trash and garbage in 55-gallon drums, which is in violation of the city's garbage ordinance. The ordinance calls for containers not larger than 30 gallons, and council agreed that trash will not be picked up if it is in larger containers.

It was also noted that a check for $15,082 had been received for revenue sharing, and that amount is about $4,000 smaller than the last check received. The funds are paid each quarter.

Council wi'l seek bids from the two banks to serv as the city depository, bids to be open at the next meeting.

Guard Exercise Set For Weekend

National Guard units from Mexia, Marlin, Bryan, and Cameron will take part in riot control and civil disturbance training this weekend at the National Guard Armory in Cameron.

Sgt. John Lansford of the local armory said the training will include classwork and practical exercises Saturday and Sunday.

TSTA To Ask Legislature For $10,000 Salary For Teachers

AUSTIN

The Texas State Teachers Association legislative committee has voted to ask the Texas Legislature for a $10,000 beginning salary for Texas teachers effective in September 1975.

Mrs. Carolyn Harrell of Gonzales, chairman of the TSTA legislative committee, cited research figures indicating that the proposed shcedule would provide an average salary of $13,865 in 1975-76, which would put Texas teachers above the national average.

RANK 37th IN NATION

Texas teachers ranked 37th in the nation in average pay last year, with current $6,600 starting salary on the state minimum schedule. The average Texas teacher's salary last year was $8,967. This was $1,760 below the national average.

Joint state-local cost of the new salary proposal was unofficially estimated to be $1.7 billion for the next two-year period.

The TSTA panel previously had adopted a salary package with an $8,200 starting salary, but many teachers felt that was not enough. The TSTA Executive Committee last month asked the legislative committee to reconsider the earlier plan. The committee action came in an all-day meeting in Austin on Friday.

JUST ONE PART

Salary is just one part of a major bill TSTA will submit to the Legislature this month to update the public school program and revise Texas public school finance.

This measure proposes, among other things, state-financed compensatory education for educationally disadvantaged children; funds for reduction of class sizes; more specialized education personnel such as librarians and counselors; and increases state aid for transportation and maintenance and operation of schools.

The TSTA bill would not mean greatly increased employment of teaching personnel. It simply would provide state aid to school districts which already provide such personnel at their own local tax expense, and it would also provide those personnel to districts which cannot afford them at present.

NO TAX INCREASE

Mrs. Harrell said the TSTA plan, in most cases, would not require a local property tax increase.

Total cost of the bill, including salary, was unofficially pegged at $2.7 billion for the next biennium.

The 10-step salary proposal includes yearly increments of six percent, enabling a teacher with a bachelor's degree to reach $16,000 at the top of the schedule. A master's degree teacher would start at $11,000 and reach $17,600 at the top of the schedule. Local districts could still supplement the minimum program, as some now do.

A cost-of-living factor beginning in 1976 would keep Texas teacher salaries in step with inflation.

The present teacher salary schedule in Texas is Bachelor's degree, $6,600 to $9,910 in 10 steps; master's degree, $7,200 to $11,380 in 10 steps.

Local districts would share in the cost of the program and finance system much as they do now. The TSTA proposal does call for commitment of local funds to help pay for the expanded program, but considerably less than total local district taxes now raised and less than most other new proposals would require.

Blood Center Outlines Benefits Of Program

The Central Texas Red Cross Blood Center has outlined benefits to persons living in counties covered by the blood program, and gives procedures to follow to claim those benefits.

Milam is part of the Program area, due to the efforts of persons who are willing to donate a pint of blood four times a year to meet quotas set by the Red Cross program.

The bloodmobile will be in Cameron on Tuesday, January 14 from 12 noon until 6 p.m. at the Methodist Fellowship Hall. There have been no visits for six months due to a flareup of hepatitis in the city last year.

If you are a resident of any county covered by the Central Texas Red Cross Blood Program, all of your blood needs are fully covered regardless of where you are hospitalized, providing the hospital will accept Red Cross credits or blood.

Also, your spouse, dependent children, parents, grandparents, parents-in-law, and grandparents in-law are covered no matter where they live or where they are hospitalized.

The following counties participtte in the Red Cross Blood Program and are entitled to the above coverage: Bosque, Falls (west of the Brazos), Gillespie, Hill (Whitney and Mt. Calm), Kimble, Limestone, McLennan, Montgomery, San Saba, Coryell (Gatesville), Freestone (Teague and Wortham), Hamilton (only the town of Hamilton), Kerr, Lampasas, McColluch, Milam, and Hays.

If you or a member of your family is hospitalized outside the area covered by the program, you should: 1. Inform the hospital that your blood needs are covered by the Red Cross. 2. Contact the Red Cross Blood Center or your local chapter and relate the patient's name and address, date and place hospitalization.

After the Red Cross is informed of your blood usage, it follows this procedure: 1. An inquiry is sent to the hospital requesting the number of units used. 2. When this information is received, credits are sent so the the responsibility for replacing the blood or paying for it is removed from the patient's family.

It is the basic premise of the Red Cross that the donation of blood is the responsibility of the healthy and should be given freely to the ill.

It doesn't take much time and doesn't hurt to give a pint of blood. A short physical exam is given, in addition to a short history, a blood sample is tested, and then blood is drawn. A short rest period with orange juice and coffee or cold drink is given before the donor leaves.

Dropoff In Doo-Dads...

It took years for the nation to get into this economic position, so it can't pull out in peacetime in a few months.

That's what Alan Greenspan, chairman of the President's Council of Economic Advisers, has told a joint congressional committee.

Things are not quite so bad nor quite so good, he says in effect. Central to much of the difficulty is major layoffs in the auto industry and related subcontractors. It is Henry Ford's grandson asking for tax incentives for Detroit, which is in a depression.

That is the danger of a one-economy town or region. Detroit so convinced America of the need for a new car about every two years, it became the domestic industry which garnered all the forces of progress for about 15 years.

But the foreign imports began taking their toll a few years ago. Now, all manufactureres are laying off, in Germany, Japan, Italy, Britain, and France. But Detroit is hardest hit.

Al Capp, creator of "L'il Abner," long ago identified the power of major industry when he introduced "General Bull Moose," who was always saying "what is good for General Bull Moose is good for the U. S. A." Capp may have been satirizing General Motors if not the whole industrial complex which puts steel, autos, appliances in the productive hands of but a few corporations.

The magnificent genre of the mass-produced automobile, the real contribution of Henry Ford, was its simplicity, its efficiency and its price. When the industry now so troubled put too much in and on the automotive frame, beyond wheels, seats, steering, brakes, and motor, it compelled the public to choose between home and "wheels."

Times as they are, home gets first priority, even if it's a high-rise apartment, a duplex, or ghetto. People are getting back to that state of mind where basics include transportation sans doo-dads.

It's the dropoff in doo-dads which Greenspan describes. In Detroit, the chrome in effect costs more than the car.

And industry and the nation's economy is regrouping.

A Positive View...

Alcoa chief John Harper shows realistic optimism for aluminum in 1975, which is good for Texas and Milam County, now home of most of Alcoa's primary production.

Harper, Alcoa's board chairman, cites construction on a new smelter in Anderson County, near Palestine, and imminent construction of a power facility in Milam County at the Rockdale Works which will double energy sources.

His view of the energy crunch is positive in terms of aluminum. It means, he says in effect, cars will have to be lighter and lighter materials mean greater use of aluminum.

Beyond the obvious problems of the mid-70s, increased efficiency programmed into the new plant at Palestine and greater use of lignite at Rockdale assure greater production at both sites.

Any way it goes, efficiency is a substantial part of nature. The most beautiful, the seemingly most pointless, the least likely aspect of nature is a link forged, a role played, a niche filled because it adds something, rather than take away.

It is a positive view that builds new aluminum plants and modernizes others. It is a positive view that sent Harper to the top from plant manager in Rockdale 20 years ago.

And it is a positive view which continues to pay off for Milam County, the country, and men like John Harper.

OLD PHILOSOPHER

Dear editor:

I had intended to fill this letter this week with my predictions for 1975 but gave up when I got through reading all the predictions by the experts.

As I understand them, some say 1975 will be worse than 1974, some say better, and the rest have their fingers crossed. The one I liked best was the expert on television who squared his shoulders and said we'll be all right if we adopt a program that will stop a recession and whip inflation, but time ran out before he could say what the program is. Runner-up was the one who said the big automobile companies have got to stop making cars and switch to bicycles.

At the heart of our troubles, most of them agreed, is oil and the way the Arab nations are pricing it so high they'll eventually own all the money in the world.

This is probably true and I have figured out why Arab oil is so high. I'll explain.

Have you noticed that when an Arab leader appears on television invariably he speaks English fluently? I got to checking into this and found that most of them got their higher education in America.

That's where the trouble started. American universities thought they were over here learning our culture when all the time they were learning how to charge for something somebody else can't get along without. They may have made good grades in American history but what they were fascinated with was seeing how companines can put a high price on sugar and get away with it, or how to buy meat cheap on the hoof and sell it high in the supermarket, or how to get $100 a day for a hospital room.

They took one look at all the cars and filling stations over here and said, "There's no future in sand and camels; oil is where the money is."

What's Washington hung on? Why isn't it sending American farmers to study a while in Arab universities? Arabs have to eat, the same as we have to drive cars.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

Governor Faced With Many Appointments

While the legislature is getting set for action and inaugural activities are being planned, Gov. Dolph Briscoe is faced with hundreds of important decisions on fitting the right men (and women) into jobs.

Within the first two months of the year, he must make appointments or reappointments to about 600 board, agency and commission places where terms of members are expiring.

Before 1975 is over, he will have placed more than 1,700 people in major and minor jobs.

During his four-year term, he will make enough such appointments to "control" every appointive state agency. That is to say, the people he selects will be in a majority of seats on the regulatory, licensing and administrative bodies.

Nearly all the gubernatorial appointments are subject to confirmation by the State Senate.

Three University of Texas system board of regents members will come to the end of their present terms Janaury 13. The most controversial of the three, Frank Erwin Jr. of Austin, has stated he does not seek another term. Jenkins Garrett of Fort Worth and Dan C. Williams of Dallas also face expiring terms.

State Highway Commissioner D. C. Greer's term expires February 15. Briscoe has stated he will reappoint Joe Christie chairman of the State Insurance Board January 31.

Other agencies with powers reaching into all segments of economic life of the state have vacancies coming up which Briscoe will fill early this year.

SUPERPORT URGED—Governor Briscoe and Lt. Gov. Bill Hobby jointly urged public bodies and private interests to apply immediately to build a $400 million offshore terminal in Texas Gulf waters.

But both officials said they are opposed to state ownership of so-called superport facilities designed to receive and off-load oil imported in huge tankers.

Their statement dealt a perhaps-fatal blow to possibility of a state-financed superport. The Texas Offshore Terminal Commission by a five to four vote had recommended state ownership and control of an estimated $1.4 billion profit operation over a 30-year span.

The two officials lauded new federal legislation establishing a licensing procedure for the offshore facilities. They said they will cooperate fully with license applicants when assurances are provided that the coastal environment is not jeopardized. The federal act allows states to retain veto power of facilities, requires a $20 million bond to protect the environment and makes port owners and ships liable for up to $50 million in damages.

COURTS SPEAK—The State Supreme Court upheld validity of a corporation franchise tax surcharge attacked by six corporations in spite of erroneous dates named in the legislation for reporting financial data on which the levy is based.

The High Court in another case, concluded a school teacher fired temporarily while running for county commissioner must go through administrative channels before suing Pharr-San Juan-Alamo School district for $107,800 in damages.

A $48,866 award to a Galveston County youth hit while "playing" in front of a car was upheld in another Supreme Court case involving whether a lawyer hinted the motorist's insurance policy was limited to a $100,000 payment.

NEW PRIMARY PUSHED—A strong push for establishment of a Texas presidential preference primary in 1976 (and thereafter) is anticipated in the legislature this year.

Some writers have sought to link it with the White House aspirations of U.S. Sen. Lloyd Bentsen. The senator is expected to announce his candidacy soon, and, of course, wants to make a strong showing in his home state. Opinion is divided as to whether he could win more delegates in a primary or the traditional convention system.

At any rate, at least four legislators already have indicated they will offer bills to provide for selection of Texas presidential and vice presidential nominating delegates in a May primary.

The arrival of millions of pilgrims during the Roman Catholic Holy Year brings Rome the prospects of desperately-needed tourist revenue but it also poses the threat that the city will collapse under the strain. The warning is that the city, already beset by massive problems of dirt, crime pollution, and traffic will not be able to stand up to the arrival of a huge number of pilgrims.

The once growing drive to help clean up America's roadsides and parks by outlawing throwaway bottles and cans is meeting new defeats, the victim of the powerful beer and soft drink lobby and public apathy. Only recently, proposed municipaly laws against throwaways were defeated by city councils in the Washington area.

Cow-Calf Clinic Set At Taylor

By Bill McCutchen

Plans for the Central Texas Cow-Calf Clinic to be held Friday, January 10, at the Taylor Livestock Auction Company, located 4 miles north of Taylor on the Granger Highway, were completed by the planning committed this week.

Producers from four counties (Bastrop, Milam, Travis, and Williamson) worked with Extension personnel in planning this session.

Some highlights include a live animal demonstration at 9:30 a.m. with Leon Noack, Rockdale rancher, monderating a panel of cattle buyers in an effort to show why there is a difference in calf prices. J. D. Sartewell, Houston; Jimmy Schwertner, Austin; Pat Gallahan, Austin; Don Shiller, Taylor; Oscar Bode, Milano; and Julius Caesar, Hallesttsville; will make comments as to the grade and price of a typical run of cattle.

Stanley Keese, vice president of First Taylor National Bank, will moderate a session called "Financing the Cow-Calf Business" which will include Harvey Graeber, vice president of Rockdale State Bank; N. R. "Sully" Simpson, vice president of Bastrop State Bank; and Bill Wroe, vice president of American Bank of Austin.

A catered roast beef lunch for $2.75 will be followed by a session on when we can expect to make some money in the cow business by Dr. Ed Uvacek, Extension Livestock Marketing Specialist; and ho to get them through the winter and keep them healthy by Dr. Dennis Herd, Extension Animal Nutritionist.

At 2:30 p.m. Dr. Randall Grooms, Extension Livestock Specialist, will conduct a live animal demonstration and discuss records, how to use them and what to look for in selecting varios age bulls.

Verlin Callahan, Austin rancher and businessman will moderate the morning session and J. D. Sartewell, Houston cattleman and businessman, will moderate the afternoon session and give the wrap up.

Mark your calandar for January 10 and plan to attend the Cow-Calf Clinic at Taylor Livestock Auction Company.

BIG Sets Annual Meeting

A look at the farming and ranching situation in 1975 will be offered to Blackland agricultural producers at the Convention Center in Waco, January 21.

The occasion will be the 13th annual meeting of the Blackland Income Growth (BIG) program.

"A flight of top-notch speakers will be on hand to discuss key agricultural issues of vital interest to Blackland producers," points out John Box, agronomist for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service and BIG secretary.

Registration for the meeting will begin at 9 a.m. and the program will get underway at 9:30 a.m. Ray Sawyer of Hillsboro, BIG chairman, will preside.

The morning session will include a discussion on the beef cattle picture by Dr. O. D. Butler, head of the Department of Animal Science at Texas A&M University.

The sorghum situation will be discussed by Elbert Harp of Lubbock, executive director of the Grain Sorghum Producers Association, while Don Johnson of Lubbock, executive director of the Plains Cotton Growers, will talk about the cotton picture.

A business session including the election of officers, will conclude the program.

Cattlemen's Hopes Down On Imports

During a television interview with Horace McQueen, agricultural director, Channel 7, Tyler, R. L. Moore, president and Lee Perkins, vice president of the Independent Beef Producers of America stated that the cattlemen's hopes were shattered when news leaked out that the President was not going to curtail the meat imports.

The latest word being that he would permit 1,100,000,000 (one billion, one hundred million) pounds to be imported while the ports of all foreign nations are closed to meat imports.

Cattlemen from all over this nation find it distressing and hard to understand. The beef producers are aware of the brain washing attempts by the USDA experts to confuse and mislead them with their "imports are minimal and the foreign meat imported does not effect the beef producers because of the low grade imported," Moore said

The news was disheartening because the new level will allow over 85 million more pounds to be imported in 1975 than was imported in 1974. Eighty-five million pounds does not sound too great, but when you realize it would take 241,477 (two hundred fourty one thousand, four hundred seventy-seven) cows weighing 800 pounds to make up this increase in meat imports, it then becomes meaningful.

For this nation's cattlemen the usual optimisim of January 1 was overshadowed by this disturbing news, Moore said.

Entries For Stock Show Increasing

Livestock entries for the 79th annual Southwestern Exposition and Fat Stock Show Jan. 24 through Feb. 2 are ahead of the 1974 show by a small margin, reports W. R. Watt Jr., show general manager.

"Scattered increases have been tallied in breeding cattle, Angus sale bulls, commercial Hereford sale females, breeding swine, junior steers, and heifers, and barrows," Watt said. "Slight decreases were noted in breeding sheep and dairy cattle."

A final tally for the horse show has not been made, but Douglas Mitchell, horse show manager, said indications are that breed shows in the ten divisions will be as good as last year.

Watt reminded exhibitors of poultry, rabbits, and pigeions that Jan. 15 is the dealdine for entries. Last year almost 2,800 were entered in these divisions, he said.

The strongest jump in the livestock entry list was among commercial Hereford females, up 16 percent to 844 head. "These cattle are from the outstanding herds of the Southwest," Watt said.

Year-End Crop Report Shows Cotton Down, Citrus Down, Sorghum Down, Soybeans Down; Corn, Pecans, Rice Increase.

AGRICULTURE 1974 will be remembered in a variety of ways, and for production of major crops the year will show declines, some significant ones in cotton, sorghum, soybeans, and citrus.

Texas, the number one cotton producing state in the nation, will show a decline in 1974 production of 1,873,000 bales compared to 1973. Yield is expected to show only a 280-pound average compared with a record 431 pound per average in 1973.

Abandonment from all causes is expected to reach 800,000 acres, which is the largest abandonment since 1956. It is four times more acres lost than occurred in 1973.

Along with a cut in production came a cut in demand for the crop as well. Due to economic conditions generally, there was for most of the year little or no demand for cotton in spite of the decline in production. Reduced production usually means higher prices. Economists generally are hoping a turn-around for cotton may bein in the second or third quarter of 1975.

SORGHUM PRODUCTION in Texas during 1974 is expected to be about 130,000,000 bushels less than 1973. Texas is the nation's leading state in sorghum production. Yield for 1974 is expected to average about five bushels per acre less than in 1973.

Although prices did show significant increases in 1974 for sorghum, producers were also hard hit by sharply rising costs of production. An increase in sorghum acreage is now expected in Texas in 1975 by most economists.

CITRUS PRODUCERS are also facing a downturn in production for 1974. The 1974-75 citrus crop is forecast at 13.3 million boxes by the Texas Crop and Livestock Reporting Service. This is 23 per cent below the production of the previous season.

Grapefruit production is expected to total 7,800,000 boxes, down 23 per cent from a year ago.

Early and mid-season oranges are forecast at 3,600,000 boxes, down 14 per cent from a year ago.

Valencia oranges are set at 1,900,000 boxes, down 21 per cent from a year ago.

SOYBEAN PRODUCTION in Texas is down 24 per cent from a year ago. Most of the state's soybean production is on the High Plains. Total production is now set at 6,500,000 bushels. Yield is expected to average 26 bushels per acre.

PEANUT PRODUCTION in Texas is apparently going to show a decline also from 1973, only it will be slight. Peanut production is estimated at 469,650,000 pounds for 1974 compared to 471,225,000 pounds in 1973.

On the brighter side in Texas crop production for 1974:

Pecans are almost double from the 1973 level. The 1974 projection is 38,000,000 pounds compared to only 20,000,000 pounds in 1973.

Corn production will be up 15 per cent over 1973 in Texas. Yield is expected to average 90 bushels per acre with total production for this year now set at 69,750,000 bushels.

Rice production in 1974 is expected to be about 5,000,000 hundredweight above 1973 levels. Yield is expected to average 4,494 pounds per acre.

Weather conditions over most of the state at year's end shows moisture supply adequate. With good underground moisture, Texas farmers are hoping for a better crop yield in 1975.

Building Right Nips Termites

Wood framing over an open basement or accessible crawl space is generally out of reach of the insidious fiber chewers.

Termites must maintain access to ground moisture, so sometimes will build a mud tunnel up across a concrete foundation. This can be seen easily and broken away.

Pressure-treated all-wood foundations, now slowly gaining favor across the nation, stop the insects cold.

Slab-on-ground construction is vulnerable, because termites can move in through flaws, which are obscured by finish floors.

Patman Offers Plan For Constitution Amendment

A plan to replace the 1876 Texas Constitution with the basic document produced but not passed by last year's Constitutional Convention has been offered by Senator Bill Patman of Ganado. In pre-filing Senate Joint Resolution Number One proposing the 15,631 word constitutional amendment, Senator Patman had this statement:

"This is an effort to salvage the best produce of the Constitutional Convention, which has already cost $4.5 million in tax money. SJR-1 would submit to the people for their vote the document they have already paid for.

"In addition, adoption of the one basic document that was before the Convention on July 30 would avert the need for a large number of amendments over the next few years. The publication expenses alone for the 90 amendments voted on in the last ten years have cost the taxpayers very close to $2 million.

The 218 Amendments which have been added to the Texas Constitution have increased its length from 23,200 words in 1876 to 63,461 in 1975. If SJR-1 is not adopted, it may well be that another 218 amendments will be adopted before an overall revision is approved by the voters.

"The proposed amendment, plus the original Preamble and the Bill of Rights, would give us a condensed and modernized 17,705 word Constitution. All of the substantive changes made by the Convention are incorporated into the new version.

"Controversial alternative sub nittion, such as four-year terms for House members and right-to-work, were to have been decided by the people as separate issues at the time they voted on the basic document, and they should be kept separate. Several of these will be offered as additional amendments to be voted on as special issues by the Legislature and the people, and I will certainly support some of them.

"The Legislature will not have time to sit again as another Constitutional Convention during the regular session of 1975. There are those who will oppose SJR-1 because of objections to some of its provisions, and I frankly would have changed some of them myself.

"Minor changes are sure to be made during the session, but I will try to keep the basic Convention document almost intact. While I have no criticism for anyone who elects tooppose SJR-1, I feel that we will come to realize during the session that its provisions embody many improvements over the present 1876 Constitution, and that it is a practical approach to bringing a revised constitution to a vote of the people."

The Productive Minority

The proportion of farm residents in the nation's population has dropped from 30 percent to 4½ percent in the last half century. Latest survey shows 9,472,000 persons were living on farms in 1973.

Sports Spotlight

By Forrest Guess

The Cameron Yoemen have readied themselves for the long list of district opponents by participating in two tournaments. The Yoemen took the Consolation title at the Midway tournament last weekend.

This season the Yoemen have accumulated a 5-3 win loss record. In district action the Yoemen have a 2-0 record in thi young roundball season. In the upcoming game the Yoemen will face Rosebud-Lott in district action. The Yoemen will travel to Rosebud-Lott in that Friday night game.

About the Yoemen performance over the holdiays, Coach Poole had the following comments: "I think the men are improving each game and we have started eliminating some of our mistakes we made early in the season. We have started running our offense real well and I am better plesed with our performance each day. Last week in the tournament we played 3 real fie games and won the Consolation title. We lost a real close game to Marlin which went into an overtime, and we were playing with Bennett. In the overtime we just couldn't handle the press. We have a few injuries that hurts, Troy Daniels is going to be out for the week with a bad knee. We hope that Troy will be able to return and that his injury could keep that his injury will not keep him out for the remainder of the season."

The Yoemen have the height and the skill to really show well in the district. But as in football, every team really gets up to play the Yoemen. After falling back in practice for the enlogated football season, the Yoemen have really come on strong the last few games. Coach Poole was happy to see the football season continue as he remarked, "Winning promotes winning."

In other area of sports, the Cameron people have sometimes overlooked the Centex Motocross racing track. The track is in its first year of operation and has already gained state wide and even nation wide attention. The races are sun on ion. The races are run on each 1st and 3rd Sunday of the month.

Starting this month the track started the National Championship points. Each competitor in each division will be accumulating points and trying for the state titles. After state the racers will compete for nation l titles then advance to international titles.

The Cameron race track is accredited by the American Motorcynle Association. Riders have come from all over the nation to run on the track. The sport has gained attention in the high school levels and there is compenlevels and there is competition between high schools and is gaining popularity in the professional ranks as well.

People are invited to watch the races on Sunday afternoons and the track is located on the Bo Titsworth farm located west of Camern.

Yoe Gains 3rd District Win

The Cameron Yoemen whipped pas t the Chaps of Westlake, 71-39 in district action here Tuesday night. This brings the Yoemen to a 3-0 district record in this young roundball season.

In the first half the Yoemen blistered the net by sinking 50% from the field. And by the end of the first quarter the Yoemen pumped past the Chaps, 16-9. With effective shooting by high point man Ronnie Bennett the Yoemen secured a 38-20 lead by half time.

With the Yoemen height, they were able to control the offensive and defensive and brought down 43 rebounds.

At the free throw line the Yoemen attempted four and hit 2 for a 50% mark. The Chaps went to the free throw line for 13 points for the nights total.

The Chaps were only able to sink four field goals in the third quarter for 8 points. The Yoemen placed together 12 points in the quarter.

In the second half, the Yoemen brought down 38 rebounds which allowed the Yoemen their fine offensive night. The Yoemen continued their hot streak in the shooting department and sank an impressive 48% from the field.

At the free throw line in the second half the Yoemen hit 3 out of 4 attempts for 75%. The Yoemen were never in foul trouble as they had little trouble in setting the pace for third district win.

The Yoe High freshmen cagers continued their distrucit winning streak by downing the frosh Chaps, 49-40.

The freshmen's leading scorer for the night was Mike Knight who blazed in 14 points At the end of the first quarter the score was tied at 10 each. By half time the Yoemen were able to take a one point advantage, 23-22. At the end of the third quarter the Yoemen were down by one point but they were not to be denied of their 3rd district win and pumped in 16 points to the Chaps 6. Carr was the high point man for the Chaps. Bobby Burton claimed 12 points for the Yoemen while Roderick Kelley was in the double figures for 10.

The Yoe junior varsity sank to the Chaps in a close game that proved the victor in the fourth quarter, 54-51. The Yoemen led up to the fourth quarter and had secured a ten point lead. An impressive press by the Chaps took the momentum from the Yoemen. The Chaps hit 16 free throws out of 21 attempts while the Yoemen were allowed on the free line twice and hit only 1.

All Yoe High roundball teams will be in action this Friday night as they go against Rosebud-Lott.

Yoemen Place 6 All-Centex

The Cameron Yoemen placed six players on the All Centex offensive and defensive lineups. Cameron led the picks with La Grange placing five on the blue chip list.

Joe Smitherman was placed on both the defensive and offensive slots and has gained super attention from sport writers and is the only player out of the district to be named on both the first team all district and the first team All Centex selection.

In the defensive loop, the Yoemen placed Ronnie Bennett, Joey Mondrik, and Jafus White. All of the Yoemen named will be returning for the 75-76 football season with the exception of senior Willie Bell.

Also released was the naming of the Super Centex team. The Yoemen placed two on this prestigious listing. Senior Willie Bell was listed as the Super Centex running back. The reason is quite obvious to explain looking back at his record of 1,100 yards offensive and is accredited with over 11 touchdowns.

Ronnie Bennett was also named on the first team defensive selection. Bennett had super games throughout the season and was also selected on the All-District first team.

La Granged placed the first team quarterback, Neal Miller, who guided the La Grange team to its first district winner in several years. Also Miller was named as the most valuable player for the Centex area. Coach Ben Bloomer from La Grange was named as the coach of the year.

While the attire here is a bit more formal, this scene could be Coney Island. Everywhere the beaches are crowded!

We don't know what brings penguins together in such number, but where people are concerned, it's the quest for recreation.

Interesting word: RE-creation . . . as if the work of God at the beginning of time has to be done over again . . . man, the creature, needing to be created again.

But the idea has spiritual implications worth pondering: The Sunday morning a family devotes to worship is a time of recreation. It does more for the soul than the crowded beaches can do for the body and mind.

Are Natural Gas Curtailments Going To Affect Me?

During cold days in the winter, when the demand for natural gas is really high, some industrial users are asked to cut back their consumption of natural gas. But we want to assure our residential and other high priority customers that it's highly unlikely their natural gas service will be interrupted.

The pipelines used to deliver natural gas can only hold so much gas. And during extremely cold winter days, there's sometimes more demand than we can supply. Some people ask, "Why not build bigger pipelines?" But that would be like building a church for the Easter or Christmas attendance, rather than the weekly congregation. The cost would be tremendous and gas rates would be much higher.

Instead we developed a "curtailment" program many years ago. Our industrial customers have signed contracts agreeing to "curtail" their use of natural gas during these peak times.

If you were considering replacing an existing gas appliance or purchasing a new one, be assured that Lone Star can provide the energy. We have the natural gas, and our residential and other high priority customers may continue to rely on Lone Star's dependable service now as in the past.

PRETTY GARBAGE?

Garbage containers have become so attractive these days that you might think they elevate the caliber of your refuse! Not quite...but a pretty garbage container is some incentive to keep it neat and clean.

You can buy garbage pails in high-style enameled finishes, chrome, rubber and plastic. They're so easy to wash that there's no excuse for odor build-up.

Keep them fresh by regularly scrubbing inside and out with full-strength Janitor In A Drum. Its pleasant pine scent keeps your garbage pail odor- and germ-free.

Outdoor garbage pails should be kept clean too. Treat them to a hose-down and a cleaning once a month. This eliminates the attraction the pail provides to neighborhood dogs and other fauna.

Indoor or outdoor, keep your garbage neat by lining the container with newspaper or plastic bags made especially for discarding refuse. To prevent drippy garbage, drain off liquids and wrap before throwing away.
